

I AM

Most people with Hep C have no symptoms for years, or only non-specific symptoms like tiredness, and are therefore unaware they are infected. But Hep C can cause serious liver disease if it's left untreated.

If you want to check whether you might have been exposed to the Hep C virus, just take our quick online Hep C quiz at: www.hepctrust.org.uk/quiz

Ask your GP practice about Hep C if you think you could be at risk of infection.
New treatments are available

Take action today

Photo: Courtesy of Ask The Doctor magazine,
photography by Terry Benson